FIRST DISTRICT DIRECTOR VISITS ROCHESTER CLUB

A welcome to the new First District Director, Mrs. Fred Curtis, was extended by members of the Rochester Woman's Club at the October 5th meeting. Mrs. Curtis, modishly dressed in a beige suit with royal accessories, was presented a corsage by Mrs. Frank Howland, club president. Mrs. Curtis was the first president of her home club, the Dennis Woman's Club, and she resides in Dennisport.

In her address to the group, she emphasized the value of attending the Club Institute meetings on the first Thursday of each month at the YWCA in Boston. Club members may enjoy at these meetings many fine speakers and discussions that cannot be afforded locally. Mrs. Curtis mentioned the contributions of time and money that a club may make to worthwhile causes. Various institutions and hospitals are eager to have organizations arrange parties and entertainment for the patients, and the effort expended is well rewarded by the appreciation of these shut-ins.

Mrs. Curtis voiced the hope that there would be a 100% subscription to "Federation Topics", the magazine of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, for all executive officers of clubs in the First District. This magazine contains vital information about the club

THE PRESIDENTIAL DEBATES

The face to face discussion on television is now two down and two to go. In the second meeting, a much improved system finally allowed a few basic differences in ideas to show. Quemoy and Matsu question was one of these great differences. Senator Kennedy was for giving up the islands as indefensible and drawing a line inside Formosa. The Vice-President strongly opposed allowing surrender on the theory that withdrawal would provide the encouragement that would lead to trouble. He defended the plan we have been following, with success, during the Eisenhower administration of letting the implied protection of the U. S. military might cast a mantle of protection over these islands. On the surface the Senator's plan seems sensible in spite of our success in holding these islands for many years. It seems so, until you consider Berlin. Berlin is an island far more important than the tiny two off the coast of China. Berlin is "indefensible". Yet through all the years following the war, Berlin has been held as in island of democratic progress deep in the heart of communist Germany, and the contrast was described by Khrushchev as "a cancer in my throat". Retreat is surrender no matter how you slice it and will be recognized as weakness by the communists. As we stand now on the two islands, we commit nothing but we imply much. The simple implication of American military might is enough to give pause to the Chinese communists. It has always followed that weakness showed to the communists is exploited to the limit. The chain reaction that would almost surely follow the surrender of Quemoy and Matsu might lead to major disaster in the other "island" of Berlin. On that "island" we have committed ourselves deeply. The Senator keeps mentioning the emergency that might cause a rise in taxes. It could happen fast and be an emergency shooting war if we should start surrendering free land at any point to the communists.
